Mr Jenkins lives in a town. He works in a museum. There are a lot of old wonderful things in it. He likes his work and often goes to work on time.

One day he left his office at twelve. He went to have lunch. As soon as he went out of the gate, he met an old friend of his. They didn't see each other for about five years. Of course, they were very happy. His friend asked him for lunch. He agreed, and they went into a restaurant. There they drank a lot. Then his friend said, "You've drunk too much. Let me help you to your office. "

"No, no," said Mr Jenkins. "My office is only several minutes' walk. I can go there myself. "

When his friend left, it was difficult for him to stand. He was afraid to be late and stopped a taxi.

When he got on, the driver asked, "Where are you going, sir?" "To the Park Street. "

"Oh. Sorry, sir, "the driver said in a hurry. "This is the Park Street. " "OK!" Mr Jenkins said and got off. He took out some money and threw it to the driver. He shouted, "But don't drive so fast next time!"

How hard is it to earn(赚) 10 yuan? The students of Class 23 at the Yunnan University Secondary School can tell you. Recently they had a special “ learning life skills”activity.

The 64 students in the class were divided into 16 teams. They did all kinds of jobs including selling drinks, fruit and cleaning shoes in the street.

"If a team can't earn 10 yuan each person, they fail, ” said Li Xueping, the head teacher.

Zhang Ruoxin's team sold expensive black tea and tea cups. The girls tried to sell the things to many people but few bought them at first

Luckily Zhang had a “ secret way”—a small booklet with advice on healthy tea drinking. People were interested in the idea and they began to sell more of their things.

Dong Yanyu and other girls in her team, however, worked more with their hands than by talking. They cleaned motorcycles and bicycles.

The girls worked well as a team. Some fetched water, others did the cleaning and the rest tried to find their new customers. They charged(要价) five yuan for a motorcycle and four yuan for a bicycle.

In all hour they had earned 51 yuan. "I can't believe it, "said Dong. "That's almost a week's pocket money!"

At the end of the day, only four teams had failed the 10-yuan requirement. Li, the teacher, said she was happy to see the students had got a taste of life.

They worked hard with each other. They also came up with ideas about how to sell their things and provide good services.

"These are both important and useful life lessons, ” she said.

76. The students of Class 23 were asked to _____ in their special activity.

- A. make some money B. clean the street
C. visit a university D. work hard

77. The students in the picture are _____ .

- A. selling drinks B. cleaning shoes
C. selling fruit D. cleaning bicycles

78. What helped Zhang Ruoxin's team sell more of their things?

- A. The quality of their tea. B. The tea cups.
C. The girls' politeness. D. The advice on healthy tea drinking.

79. Why did the teacher feel happy at the end of the day?

- A. Because each team earned a lot of money.

- B. Because few of the teams met her requirement.
 - C. Because the 16 students could do different kinds of jobs.
 - D. Because most of the students did well in the life lessons.
80. Which of the following is NOT true according to the passage?
- A. There are only 4 students in each team.
 - B. The girls in Dong Yanyu, s team charged more for cleaning a motorcycle than a bicycle.
 - C. The students of Class 23 earned about 450 yuan that day.
 - D. The teacher thought the life lessons were important to her students.

What would it be like to fall at a speed(速度) of 25 meters a second(秒) from a height of 1 160 meters? Could a person still think clearly during the experience?

Recently this happened to Chinese Air Force pilot Li Feng. What he thought was, "I will save my plane. "

It was on March 7. Li, 38, was flying a Jian-10 (Fighter-10) at 4 500 meters during a training exercise. A red message showing emergency (紧急情况) suddenly appeared on the plane's computer screen. He realized the plane might fail at any moment.

Li did a quick check of the engine(引擎) and asked the captain for permission to return.

When the fighter was 7 km away from the airport, however, the engine stopped working. The plane was still 1 160 meters above the ground. It began to fall at a speed of 25 meters a second.

Under Air Force rules, fighter pilots may eject(弹射出) if their airplane fails below 2 000 meters and can't be restarted.

"You can eject now, " the captain told Li Feng, but he decided to try to save the plane.

"I knew when the deadline was and was ready to eject, but I decided not to give up unless the fighter was completely out of control(控制), " Li said during a recent television interview.

Under great pressure, he managed to control the plane and land it. It moved along the runway for 1 400 meters before stopping. It took 104 seconds.

"You are a hero! Congratulations!" Li's teacher, Xu Yonglin text messaged him after the landing. He said Li was a cool-headed pilot.

However, Li said it was nothing. He said any professional pilot would have done the same thing.

"A pilot loves his plane. It would hurt him to lose it," he said.

Li's bravery and calm not only saved 200 million yuan's worth of airplane but also gained the Chinese Air Force experience of dealing with an engine emergency. For his outstanding performance, the Air Force recently gave him a gold medal.

81. Li Feng _____ .

- A. is a Chinese Air Force pilot
- B. was born on March 7
- C. has been a pilot for 38 years
- D. became a pilot at the age of 38

82. What happened to Li Feng during a training exercise?

- A. His plane flew too high and too fast.
 B. Something went wrong with the plane's computer.
 C. The engine of his plane broke down.
 D. His plane flew faster at the height of 1 160 meters.
83. What did the red message on the plane's screen mean to Li Feng?
 A. He should first try to slow down the speed of the plane.
 B. The plane might be out of control at any time.
 C. He had to give the engine a quick check and restart it at once.
 D. He needn't ask the captain for permission for an emergency landing.
84. The underlined word "deadline" in the passage means " _____ " .
 A. 25 meters a second from a height of 1 160 meters
 B. the plane out of control at any height
 C. the speed and pressure that the pilot can be ejected
 D. the plane fails below 2 000 meters and can't be restarted
85. Which of the following is TRUE according to the passage?
 A. The engine of Li Feng's plane stopped working 7 km above the airport.
 B. During an interview Li Feng told the reporters that his plane was completely out of control.
 C. It took 104 seconds for Li Feng to get control of his plane before landing safely on the ground.
 D. Li Feng's bravery and calm helped him save the Jian-10 (Fighter-10).

Hi, my name is Christina Baum. I'm a fourteen-year-old German student. I'm writing to tell you about an experiment we are doing at school with our Science teacher. At the beginning of this school year, Frau Keller showed us films and we read articles about problems in the environment. One day she said,"I want to know what you think. Please don't tell me what we should do or must do. Tell me what each of you will do to protect (保护) the environment. "

She asked us to choose a topic, make a weekly plan and tell the class about it. Then we had to do things to be "green" and write a report about our achievements. Some students said that they thought it was impossible for a single person to contribute(起作用) to the protection of the environment. Someone else said that scientists should work harder to find new ways to produce energy.

Frau Keller said that it is everyone's job to care for the health of the planet. After the first week everybody in class was excited about the project and wanted to continue to improve their results. Someone suggested telling the other classes in the school. Now all 768 students at Hermann Stein School are working on the project. At the end of the year, our class will write a report about what we have achieved.

Next week I'll think about how not to waste water or make it dirty. I'm planning to try and use less water every day, and also not use so much of the things that make it dirty.

Every time I turn on the tap(水龙头), I must think about how much water and soap I use. To use less water, this is what I'll do:

- take a shower instead of baths ;
- turn off the tap while brushing my teeth;
- use less washing-up liquid(液) when washing dishes.

If you want to know more or join us, please write an email to the following address ;

k, keller@hermannsteinschool. de

Possible version 1

Deng Yang and Ma Liang both like outdoor activities. Last Sunday it was sunny and they went hiking. Deng Yang packed something to eat and drink. They climbed the mountains and finally reached the top. After getting down the mountains, they saw a wide river. They put their bags on a piece of wood and swam across the river. They really enjoyed the beautiful scene. At noon they were tired and hungry, so they stopped and had a good meal. How happy they were!

Possible version 2

Last Sunday, Liming and I decided to go to the south mountain to have picnic. We set out early in the morning. On the way, we talked about our picnic again and again. First, we climbed a hill. Then, we swam across a small river with our bags on a piece of wood. At last, we arrived at the camp. We played, danced, laughed and talked. When we were tired, we had a great picnic. What a day it was!
